

Donations in Memory

Celebrate the life of a loved one - making a donation in memory is a unique way to ensure their memory will last forever.

Losing someone you love is one of the hardest things anyone has to face – sometimes finding a way to pay tribute to their memory can help to ease the pain.

Many people choose to give donations to charities that their loved ones would have supported, or that had helped them at some point in their life. This can honour their memory and continue the positive influence of their life even after they're gone.

Making a donation to The Sick Children's Trust in memory of a loved one is a valuable and positive way to celebrate their life, whilst at the same time helping us to continue our vital work, supporting families with sick children by providing 'Home from Home' accommodation at children's hospitals across the UK.

“ Fundraising for the SCT has helped to replace some of the feelings of helplessness that we all felt. We have organised several fundraising events all over the country and these events provide us with an opportunity to support each other and to show our friends that we are still thinking of them. Sometimes it's hard to find the right words to say but, in this case, money talks. ”

There are many ways you can make a donation in memory:

- Tribute fund

For some of our supporters, remembering someone by setting up a Tribute fund into which donations from family, friends and work colleagues can be paid has been a great way to honour their memory. This becomes a fund which celebrates the life of someone special.

- Gift in lieu of flowers

You could ask friends and relatives of your loved one to make a donation to The Sick Children's Trust instead of giving flowers at their funeral - which is a really special way of celebrating their life.

- Online remembrance page

Another way is to set up your own online remembrance page, using such sites as www.justgiving.com or www.muchloved.com, where friends and family can make a secure online donation via their credit or debit card from anywhere in the world. You can customise the page with your own personal message and photo.

- Donation

You may like to make a simple one-off donation towards the work of The Sick Children's Trust in memory of a loved one. Simply visit our website to make an online donation or give us a call on 020 7791 2266.

- Fundraising event

Perhaps you'd like to organise a fundraising event that friends and relatives can attend to commemorate your loved one. We can help you every step of the way.
